One of America’s leading public research institutions, Washington State University pairs an outstanding learning experience with a deeply rooted commitment to public service.

Campuses across Washington welcome more than 31,500 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students from every state and 118 countries.

Academic programs prepare undergraduates to succeed
WSU empowers students through programs like these:
- Writing program for all majors: WSU’s Writing Program teaches students to write effectively—a vital skill in any career.
- Undergraduate research: With the guidance of professors, students learn research methods and deepen understanding of their fields.
- Honors College: Top students (average incoming GPA 3.85) of all majors participate in small, discussion-based courses and examine issues in a global context. A senior thesis explores a topic in depth.

Graduate and professional programs win national acclaim
WSU’s nearly 150 master’s, doctoral, and professional degree programs attract students from 94 nations.

Professors are both outstanding and accessible
Students at all levels work alongside professors who include members of the National Academies, Fulbright Fellows, and some of the most cited researchers in the world. WSU faculty have a well-deserved reputation for accessibility.

Research strengthens communities worldwide
Research targets critical national and global challenges in fields such as healthcare, clean energy, food production, economic opportunity, smart systems, and national security.

Students work for the greater good
Each year nearly 10,000 volunteer their time and talents to benefit communities near and far. The Elson S. Floyd College of Medicine trains physicians to serve Washington communities where they are needed most.

School spirit is unstoppable
Fans form a sea of crimson to cheer on the Pac-12 Cougars.

WSU serves communities across Washington and beyond
Campuses in Pullman, Everett, Spokane, Tri-Cities, and Vancouver serve students across the state. Global Campus online learning programs reach worldwide. Extension offices in every Washington county partner with citizens to address local issues. Research and extension centers across the state conduct studies that benefit Washington industries: agriculture, horticulture, tree fruit production, and more.
